Description:

Glace Bay Harbour is a narrow fishing port at the mouth of Renwick Brook, lined with wharves. The town at one time was one of the largest in Canada and probably one of the most affluent due to the abundance of coal. The town is now incorporated into the Cape Breton Regional Municipality (CBRM). Most amenities may be found here, with the main street, Commercial Street, crossing the bridge at the head of the harbour. The Foodland grocery store is close to the bridge. A major shopping centre and NSLC store are about 2 km from the wharf, on the outskirts of the town.

Navigation:

From the fairway light and bell buoy KV (4613.48/5955.63) moored 2 nm NE of the harbour, leading lights with red stripes on white range boards lead a course of  $208\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ T to the entrance breakwaters. It is advised to favour the north side of the narrow channel between the breakwaters. The public wharf is on the northwest side of the harbour.
